Hello Readers

As of Saturday August 1, 2009, DesertCitiesGuides.Com is merging with PalmSpringsGuides.Com with a new look and many new features. During the next few weeks and months, we will unveil these news features and services. Our goal is to provide the residents and visitors to the Coachella Valley with a resource guide that allows our readers to find anything they want, need or must have within the Coachella Valley.

We are an interactive, audio-visual media and will be adding video, more photo galleries and slideshows, all to help you enjoy and find the goods and services you desire locally. Our writers and photographers search the entire Coachella Valley each day to inform you of "What is Happening" in Palm Springs and the surrounding Areas.

We hope you enjoy our work and return often to check to see "What Is Happening." We ask you to let our Guides guide you to the very best in Palm Springs and Coachella Valley areas.

If you have questions or are aware of an interesting story, contact us, and we will talk and work with you.
